Letter from the executive director

As our budget went into the fifth year of shortages, any possible ways to shore up the deficiencies were explored. KRS 346.185 (2) states that, "in the event there are insufficient funds in the fund to pay all claims in full, all claims shall be paid at seventy percent (70%). If there are no moneys in the fund, then no claim shall be paid until moneys have again accumulated." In order for claims to be paid in full, my strategy has been to defer payment of claims until money becomes available. This has resulted in less and less money being paid out monthly, which also reflects drops in the annual award numbers and payment taking up to a year for the Sexual Assault Exam Program and two years for crime victims. On top of which, we continue to qualify for less from the federal matching grant. To the left is a chart illustrating the drop in court cost revenue – our biggest source of revenue – over the last eight years.

CVCB has begun to notice an increase in the number of applicants that have some form of insurance coverage as a result of Kentucky Kynect and the national Affordable Care Act. This has reduced the award amounts for individual claims – in some cases significantly, and has probably eliminated the need for some claims to be filed. The Sexual Assault Exam Program has noticed a sizable impact, but has identified disturbing inconsistencies in how and what insurance will pay for, an issue we plan to research, beginning with consultation with the state Medicaid agency.

The restitution / recovery program continues to become institutionalized through our partnership with Correctional Institutions and the Commissioner of Corrections, and we have expanded interception of inmate earnings at county facilities holding state prisoners. While requiring a significant amount of effort to run, this program shows great promise in recouping a portion of our expenditures. Another beneficial byproduct is the message it sends to offenders about the consequences of their criminal behavior.

Challenges resulting from reduced revenues provide incentive to work even harder across agency lines to find opportunities to cut costs and creative, collaborative ways to accomplish goals. This will be a focus for the next year, while striving to meet the needs of crime victims.

Respectfully,

Virginia Woodward

As a matter of grace...

A brief agency history / description

The national Victims of Crime Act (VOCA) passed in 1984, and through the Office for Victims of Crime (OVC) began disseminating the first assistance grants to the states in 1986. By then, Kentucky's Crime Victims Compensation Board (CVCB) was already more than a decade old. Established on June 19, 1976 (KRS 346), the CVCB was one of the country's first such entities with jurisdiction to assign relief for claims made by innocent victims of violent crime for payment or reimbursement of medical / dental expenses, mental health counseling, funeral expenses and loss of wages resulting directly from the crime.

The Crime Victims Compensation Fund has been designated by the Legislature as the payer of last resort. In other words, the Board considers payment of expenses not covered by any other sources, including: medical, car or life insurance; social security benefits; Medicaid or Medicare; unemployment benefits or Worker's Compensation benefits; lawsuits and restitution.

Currently, the cap for payments is an aggregate of $25,000, with funeral expenses paid up to $5000 and loss of wages reimbursed up to $150 a week. Mental health counseling can be approved for up to two years of payment.

Revenue sources for payment of claims include: a Kentucky general fund allocation (designated for sexual assault exams); a restricted fund that is replenished through court costs assessments statewide; and, federal matching grants renewed on a yearly basis.

Restitution has previously been a very small part of replenishing the restricted fund, but a newly established Recovery Program and restitution officer provides promise for a more robust collection system in partnership and cooperation with other law enforcement agencies.

In the Voice of Victims...

"The only closure I have left is this debt hanging over me. Thank you for giving me that closure. Maybe now I can move forward."

Fayette County Claimant

"Thank all of you for your constant work on my case. You can not imagine how I feel with my teeth getting back to where I can smile and not cry. I'll never forget what everyone did to go to bat for me."

Jefferson County Claimant

Accomplishments

- Executive Director Virginia Woodward continued serving as the first Kentucky member of the National Association of Crime Victims Compensation Boards.
- Continued to add information to the agency procedures binder.
- Continued updating procedures and revising procedures manual.
- Six staff attended NACVCB national training in Portland Oregon September 9-13, 2013.
- Monitored Jefferson District Court case#13-T-015915, which addresses issues related to separation of powers and the Constitutional authority of the courts versus elected county attorneys who are diverting traffic cases and dismissing court costs.
- Worked closely with Corrections on our interface of data and implementation of KOMS access in preparation for Parole Board documents.
- Continued further implementation of the office paperless plan through electronic transfer of working documents to the BOC/CVC board members.
